

Redrawing the boundaries of the social sciences:
How social problems became economic problems in the postwar U.S.

École normale supérieure Paris-Saclay
Pavillon des jardins, salle des conférences

Friday, December 14

9:45–10:00 am

Introduction

Philippe Fontaine (ENS Paris-Saclay) & Jeff Pooley (Muhlenberg College)

10:00–10:50 am

Family

Charles Camic (Northwestern University) & Savina Balasubramanian (Loyola University Chicago)

10:50–11:10 am: Tea/coffee break

11:10–12:00 pm

Education

Andrew Jewett (Boston College)

12:10–1:00 pm

Poverty/Inequality

Alice O'Connor (University of California at Santa Barbara)

1:00–2:30 pm: Lunch

2:30–3:20 pm

Discrimination

Leah Gordon (Amherst College)

3:30–4:20 pm

Addiction

Nancy Campbell (Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute)

Saturday, December 15

9:30–10:20 am

Crime

Jean-Baptiste Fleury (University of Cergy-Pontoise)

10:30–11:20 am

The Black Ghetto

George Galster (Wayne State University)

11:20–11:40 am: Tea/coffee break

11:40–12:30 pm

War

Joy Rohde (University of Michigan)

12:30 pm: Lunch

Organized by

Ph. Fontaine (ENS Paris-Saclay) and J. Pooley (Muhlenberg College)

With the support of the GDRI “History of Recent Social Science” and the MSH Paris–
Saclay